

STRe Solutions delivers the best talent efficiently and effectively for corporate executives and business professionals by leveraging the expertise of experienced operating executives.

Candidate Differentiators

STRe Solutions has a unique and more personalized approach than your typical recruiting firm. We know the G&A area from the inside out. Our CEO, Sue Salvesen, was a public company CFO and led 3 IPOs. We understand your experience because we've been there, not because we've learned the latest buzz words.

We're Passionate About Helping Candidates

We are passionate about helping candidates achieve their long term career objectives. We're not just filling a job order. Career advice is offered even if we do not have an opportunity for you. You are more than a resume or a piece of paper. We will meet with you in person to better understand your needs and identify the right career opportunity for you. Our in-depth interview process provides an understanding of your skill sets, strengths, weaknesses, and career aspirations. At the end of the interview, we know what your core competencies are along with your must haves for any new career move. This allows us to present and market your skills and competencies to our clients. We understand you as a candidate behind the resume, allowing us to position you for that career defining opportunity. You can count on us to provide a relationship that helps you manage your career on a long term basis.

Our Client Companies Trust Us

Our client companies know that you have been thoroughly assessed and are a match for their requirements. We give our clients an analysis of your skills, competencies and accomplishments in addition to your resume thus increasing your chances of getting an interview and ultimately the right new career position.

We Value Your Time

We value and respect your time. Our goal is simple...to understand your career objectives and help you find the right opportunity. Our process is designed to save you time looking at jobs that are not the right fit and identify quality opportunities that meet your needs.

We Respect Your Confidentiality

We understand the sensitivity and discretion of your job search and we abide by the highest standard of ethics. We NEVER send out your resume or identify you as a potential candidate without permission.
